Middle School

STUDENT-LED PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES: Monday, October 23 from 4-7:45pm

This middle school format, referred to as "student-led conferences", allows students to play an important role in acknowledging their educational responsibilities under the guidance of their advisory teachers. Each student has a portfolio which he/she is responsible for filling with the following required elements: pieces of choice work from each class, teacher behavior information sheets, grade card and student prepared plan of progress. Eighth graders and parents/teachers will meet in the gym while seventh graders and their parents/teachers will meet in the cafeteria. Individual tables will be set up in each location. Students will present their portfolios to their parents and a teacher will be at the table to answer specific questions and help guide the student through this process. Each conference will take approximately 10 minutes. No appointment needed.

TRADITIONAL-STYLE PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES: Wednesday, October 25 from 4-7:45pm.

This middle school format is a traditional parent teacher style of an individual teacher meeting in his/her classroom individually with one parent at a time. However, we would like to encourage parents to bring his/her student too!

Appointments are suggested and teachers will be sending out individual links for parents to easily register for a 15 minute appointment time.
